

Bangor University

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY

The Naval King Charles II's use of the English Navy, 1659 - 1668

Barnet, Alastair

Award date:
2024

Awarding institution:
Bangor University

Link to publication

General rights

Copyright and moral rights for the publications made accessible in the public portal are retained by the authors and/or other copyright owners and it is a condition of accessing publications that users recognise and abide by the legal requirements associated with these rights.

- Users may download and print one copy of any publication from the public portal for the purpose of private study or research.
- You may not further distribute the material or use it for any profit-making activity or commercial gain
- You may freely distribute the URL identifying the publication in the public portal ?

Take down policy

If you believe that this document breaches copyright please contact us providing details, and we will remove access to the work immediately and investigate your claim.

Download date: 17. May. 2024

11. Inclusion of copyright material. You should be aware of when permissions are required to include third party copyright material in your digital thesis; this includes copies of any publications you have published. More information is available here:

<https://www.bangor.ac.uk/library/copyright/thirdparty.php.en>. For assistance contact copyright@bangor.ac.uk. Please select one of the following three options:

- I have checked third party copyright issues throughout my thesis including all appendices, and intend to submit a single digital version of my thesis
- I intend to submit two digital copies of my thesis, one complete copy which for copyright reasons cannot be made digitally available, and one abridged version with third party copyright material removed which can be made available
- I have applied for a permanent embargo on my thesis as third party copyright is too widespread to remove, and permission from copyright holder(s) have not been granted

12. Author's declaration: by ticking this box I consent to all of the following 10 statements:

1. I agree that I am the author (or have the authority of the author) to make this agreement and do hereby give Bangor University the right to make available the thesis in the way described above.
2. I agree that this work has not previously been accepted in substance for any degree and is not being concurrently submitted in candidature for any degree unless, as agreed by the University, for approved dual awards.
3. I agree that this thesis is the results of my own investigations, except where otherwise stated. All other sources are acknowledged by bibliographic references.
4. I agree that I have exercised reasonable care to ensure that the thesis is original and, to the best of my knowledge, does not breach any laws – including those relating to defamation, libel and copyright.
5. I agree that Bangor University does not hold any obligation to take legal action on behalf of the Author, or other rights holders, in the event of a breach of intellectual property rights, or any other right, in the material deposited.
6. I agree that I will indemnify and keep indemnified Bangor University from and against any loss, liability, claim or damage, including without limitation and related legal fees and court costs (on a full indemnity bases), related to any breach by myself of any term of this agreement.
7. Unless I have been granted a permanent embargo, I understand that my thesis will be deposited in the University's institutional repository (PURE) and will be accessible without any restriction on access (either immediately, or at the end of the specified embargo) to a wide variety of people and institutions, including automated agents and search engines via the World Wide Web. I understand that once the thesis is deposited and after any embargo on access has expired, the item and its metadata may be incorporated into public access catalogues or services, national databases of electronic theses and dissertations such as the British Library's EThOS or any service provided by the National Library of Wales.
8. Bangor University deposits its scholarly output of dissertations & theses in ProQuest Dissertations and Theses Global in order to promote and preserve the intellectual output of its doctoral degree candidates. ProQuest® Dissertations & Theses Global reaches 3,000 universities with over 200 million searches annually and supports discovery of scholarly output through all major subject and discipline indexes (SciFinder, MathSciNet, PsycINFO, ERIC, etc.). ProQuest provides these services at no charge. ProQuest facilitates the nonexclusive distribution of your Master's or Doctoral thesis. You are eligible for a 10% royalty based upon sales and usage of the full text of your work distributed by ProQuest. You may withdraw your work from distribution at any time (further information here: https://media2.proquest.com/documents/pgdt-authoragreement_0.pdf). Please contact dispub@proquest.com if you have any questions.
9. I understand that rights granted to the digital repository through this agreement are entirely non-exclusive. I am free to publish the thesis in its present version or future versions elsewhere. All theses are released with a copyright license allowing you to retain rights to your work. For more information contact repository@bangor.ac.uk
10. I agree that Bangor University may electronically store, copy or migrate the thesis to any approved medium or format for the purpose of future preservation and accessibility. Bangor University is not under any obligation to reproduce or display the thesis in the same formats or resolutions in which it was originally deposited.

Signature:

Date:

~~24.7~~ 1.7.2023